Liberty Park at Andrews Housing management promotes limited home businesses and commercial activities in the home for military families. Those are defined as business enterprises conducted for profit by families assigned to Liberty Park at Andrews housing. Those businesses include the sale of products, minor repairs, service or small items, incidental service, limited manufacturing or tutoring.

All local, state and federal laws will be considered before permission is granted to conduct a business from your home. Businesses that adversely affect the tranquility or safety of the community will not be permitted. Businesses will not duplicate the sale of merchandise and services readily available through the Command's officially sanctioned commerce (the Base Exchange). The resident will not be able to place any type of sign or awning on their home in order to promote their business.

To operate a business, other than in-home childcare, the following condition applies:

- Residents must have this signed application approving their home-based business prior to beginning the home-based business.
